Katherine Divita, Candidate for Kororoit

Animal Justice Party

RESPONSE:

1. What is your view regarding the current active transport infrastructure in your electorate?

The Animal Justice Party recognises the immense impacts of our current transport system in the dimensions of human health, climate change and wildlife deaths. As a result, we need a radical shift away from private vehicles and towards other modes including mass transit and active transport. In order to accomplish this, adequate investment must be made to support this shift across Victoria. With regards to active transport, lack of dedicated infrastructure is one of the largest barriers to this mode shift and this needs to be addressed.

In my electorate Kororoit, greater investment in Private Cycle Lanes, Off - Road Tracks, End of Trip facilities along most roads are problematic and very unsafe.

2. What actions will you take to improve active transport in your electorate?

The Animal Justice Party will work with the successful government and advocate for this urgent shift away from car travel by investing in additional cycling and pedestrian infrastructure in Western Metro and local areas.

I will be sure to listen to my constituency's concerns and ideas, as any transport initiatives should prioritise the needs and wants of the local community,

3. Active transport spending at the state level is less than 2 per cent. In your view, what is a 'fair spend' for active transport?

For active transport infrastructure, the dollar amount of the spend should be based on a targeted mod-shift as opposed to the current rate of bicycle and pedestrian transport. In order for active transport to be a viable option for a majority, it needs to reach parity for positive outcomes with other modes by making these options safer and more convenient.
